

INTERNATIONAL PRACTICAL SHOOTING CONFEDERATION

Minutes of the Twenty-Third General Assembly
Cebu, Philippines, 9:00 am, Saturday, 30 October 1999

It was the IPSC Executive Councils intention that the General Assembly be conducted in a businesslike and amicable manner. To this end, except where specifically permitted by the IPSC Constitution and for motion 21 Rules., motions were not accepted from the floor of the meeting. In this manner those Regions unable to attend the Assembly had the opportunity to vote by proxy on the subject, and those Regional Directors present were able to consult with their Regional Directorate prior to the meeting.

3) IPSC President's report

The President informed the delegates that, with their permission, he intended to change the order of the Agenda so that (Item 21) Rules would be the last Item discussed prior to Any Other Business.

“Ladies and gentlemen, welcome to the twenty-third General Assembly of the International Practical Shooting Confederation. I woke up this morning reminded of a scene from the movie “A Few Good Men” where the prosecutor, played by Tom Cruise, asked the commanding officer, played by Jack Nicholson, if the private had felt that he was in danger? Nicholson responded, “yes.” Then Cruise asked, “Did the private feel he was in grave danger?” to which Nicholson replied, “Is there any other kind?”

We are in danger and must face the realities of today's world. The recent rash of lawsuits by city governments across the United States against different firearms manufacturers is a startling reminder of the “grave” danger which faces us all. The prevailing negative public perception of firearms is the fuel that continues to push the anti-gun movement's efforts all over the world. Until we are able to reverse this tide, we will continue to be subject to on-going political, legal, and financial attacks which threaten not only our growth but our eventual existence.

Improving our total image may not be the complete solution to the problems, but it must be an integral part of the total package of solutions that need to be implemented.

We must not look to the past but to the future. Now is the time that we must meet these worldwide challenges head-on. We must become pro-active. We must become professional. We must become better funded. And we must become totally integrated internationally.

This international integration begins with, and is achieved by you, the Regional Directors. Our success is due largely to your commitment and hard work, and I would like to thank all Regional Directors for devoting their time and effort so generously to IPSC.

Again, as always, the Executive Council has been very busy this year. Their tasks have become increasingly more demanding and I would like to personally thank these gentlemen:

Mr. Chepit Dulay      Mr. Ren Henderson
Mr. Bob Chittleborough      Mr. Dino Evangelinos
Mr. Peter Glenn.

I also wish to thank the members of the President's Council for without their valuable time and assistance my job would be infinitely more difficult:

Mr. Tim Andersen      Mr. Dave Arnold
Mr. Luiz Frota      Mr. Fritz Gepperth
Mr. Andy Hollar      Mr. Cameron Hopkins
Mr. Alain Joly      Mr. Vince Pinto
Mr. Doug Lewis

Again this year I asked my “kitchen cabinet” to meet on several weekend Sundays for impromptu discussions and meetings. On behalf of IPSC, I would like to thank these gentlemen for their invaluable time and contribution:

Mr. Doug Lewis                      Mr. Bud Melless
Mr. Dino Evangelinos              Mr. Ren Henderson
Mr. Ian Fachie

Because of the intense media attention paid to IPSC this year our IPSC website has taken on a much larger role in the political arena and here IPSC owes a special thanks to Ian Fachie for his tireless management of our IPSC site.

There is no doubt that our last three Assemblies have fulfilled the goal of a gathering of friends to constructively discuss and deal with the business of the Confederation for which I am proud and thank you.”

DVC
Nick Alexakos

As always we have included moved, seconded, carried and denied following each motion. This way you will be able to easily keep notes and will have a virtually perfect set of minutes to take with you.

4) IROA Presidents report

“1999 has been the busiest operational year for the International Range Officers Association. Having seen the activities of the Level III sanctioned matches this year I would like to take this opportunity to salute and thank the Regional Directors for once again supporting your National Range Officer programs.

It is with great pleasure today that we welcome the additional International Instructors: Mr. Vince Pinto (Hong Kong), Mr. Barry Pollard (United Kingdom), Mr. Pablo Stelian (Argentina), and Steen Nitschke(Denmark). Each of these instructors were assigned a specific area of the world in which to offer assistance to new Regions, or to help further develop the National Range Officer programs. Vince Pinto has held seminars in Macau, Malaysia and Hong Kong, and Pablo Stelian has held one in Uruguay. In addition to the previously mentioned Instructors, I conducted an IROA seminar in Spain, and Mr. Nick Alexakos held seminars in France, Israel, and Uruguay.

Currently we have a total of 179 accredited IROA Officials. They include 134 Range Officers, 25 Chief Range Officers, 16 Range Masters and 4 Statistical Officers. I am pleased to report that all of these officials are active not only in their home Region, but also in assisting neighboring Regions on a regular basis. This is truly international cooperation at its best. I am also pleased to report that several officials have applied for membership of IROA, and will be undergoing the approval process in the next few weeks.

Assuming the adoption of a 14th edition of the Rules of the International Practical Shooting Confederation, IROA will be responsible for updating the Level I and Level II range officer seminars to reflect the changes approved by the Assembly today. The update to the seminars should be implemented as soon as possible, and will be distributed early next year.

Finally, as you watch the World Shoot unfold this week, you will see IROA members from 14 nations working with our Philippine hosts to present the most exciting event yet. Since the approval of the IROA concept by the Assembly in 1988 the program has proven to be a model of effective training, safe range operation and international cooperation. We look forward to many more years of service to IPSC.”

Thank you very much.
Dino Evangelinos

ANY OTHER BUSINESS

Non-binding proposed actions for Assembly discussion and direction.

27) Pan-American Championship

24.1 Motion:

That the 2000 Pan-American Championship be held in the Region to be determined by vote of the Pan-American Regions.

Moved: Argentina
Seconded: USA
For: 33 Against: 1 Abstain: 0
Carried

Argentina and N. Antilles entered bids.

The vote was by ballot.

Argentina: 4 N. Antilles: 1

Region: Argentina

The President informed the meeting that non-binding Motion 24.1 conflicted with Motion 24, and that he intended to write to all the Pan-American Regions to ask them to vote on the location of the 2000 Pan-American Championship.

Even if a motion had been allowed from the floor relating to the venue for this Pan-American, a vote of 5 Regions present out of 24 Pan-American Regions would not be representative of the majority view. Because it was too late to include the matter in the Final Agenda none of the Pan-American Regions could vote on the subject by proxy.

The Executive Council therefore feels that the fairest way to handle the matter is to ask for new bids.

28) Adjournment

25. Motion:

That the 1999 IPSC General Assembly be adjourned.
